

If you can carry a tune,
we'll teach you the rest!

We're just like you! We are not professional singers – we're educators, lawyers, engineers, health care professionals, business leaders, realtors, designers, and stay-at-home moms.

If you sang with a high school or church choir, and now have "Gee-I-miss-singing" pangs, you'll find that membership in ChannelAire has much to offer. We're always looking for energetic, enthusiastic, vocally talented women who love to sing, entertain and compete. The ability to read music is helpful, but not required. Previous singing experience is a plus, but not a prerequisite.

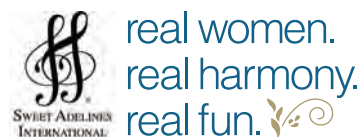

Why not attend a rehearsal? Come to sing or just to listen – there's no obligation. We love to sing for visitors and, of course, are thrilled to meet prospective members!

Rehearsals: Every Tuesday • 7:00–10:15p

Join us at any rehearsal to experience both the work and joy that go into our craft. Along with musical growth, ChannelAire offers creative opportunities in areas such as choreography, costume design, script writing, and arranging.
